Synthesis Project:

As your final project you develop a multimodal project answering the following question:

Should we discuss genocide in high school? If so, what is the best approach for discussing genocide in high school?

This will be your focus question. Review the link on the Weekly Agenda that says: Synthesis Essay for the full prompt, however, instead of writing this, you will be creating a digital representation of this argument. All of the same rules for essay writing must be present:

- Strong thesis
- Evidence to support your claims
- Logical and cohesive organization

But, besides the sources given in the “Synthesis Essay,” you must also include:

- Videos
- Images
- Connections to other sources
- Design elements that adequately represent your projects and reflect your theme and tone

Here’s how you will be evaluated:

- presentation of argument and support for that argument
- organization
- use of resources and evidence for claims
- creativity and design elements, (tone and theme match argument in design process)
- inclusion of multi-media, ie videos, images

*This may be completed individually or as a group with up to four members.
